

Five Pillars of Alignment

Your strategic instructional priorities to accelerate literacy outcomes

Lesson Design The blueprint for student learning

- "We do, You do" gradual release model
- Review of prior knowledge
- Strategic student response opportunities
- Skill + contextual application

Focused Instruction Setting the intention for learning

- Same scope and sequence across tiers
- Time and intensity of instruction increases as students move from Tier 1 → 2 → 3
- Clear purpose for learning
- Ample, connected, and varied practice with targeted feedback

Resources and Routine A structured learning environment

- Consistent and shared routines free cognitive energy for teachers and students
- Predictable structures empower teachers to focus on delivery and responsiveness

Language The bridge from research to practice

- Clear instructional dialogue so lessons can be followed with integrity and reach the widest range of learners
- Consistent academic language across tiers and grades so students can focus cognitive energy on learning and retaining new skills

Data For informed instructional decisions

- Connects tiers of instruction
- Pinpoints specific and shifting needs
- Informs groupings
- Visibility for all invested parties
